The screenshot shows a Mac desktop environment. On the left, the Telegram desktop application is open, displaying a chat with 'FEEL TRAINING & CO'. The chat history includes several messages, some of which are partially visible. On the right, a Google Chrome browser window is open, showing a video call in progress. The video call interface includes a small video feed of a person, a large chat area with text messages, and a red 'END' button at the bottom right. The desktop background is a solid light blue color.
